well the captives are being treated. A clue to the actual state of the prisoners' minds can be obtained by a glance at their faces. The sign reads: Fight energetically for peace in Viet Nam by repatriation of the French Expeditionary Corps. (NEA Telephoto)

Pittsburgh Goes Without Buses

By WILLIAM A. SWARTWORTH

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A pert blonde, busily chewing gum, smiles brightly and cheerfully raises her thumb to hitch a ride to work.

An elderly steelworker, a lunch box tucked under his arm, stands on the corner waiting for a fellow worker to come by in his auto.

Two teen-age boys, whistling snatches of the latest Hit Parade tunes, stroll block after block toward school.

All are familiar sights in this bustling industrial metropolis, without trolleys and most of its buses for nearly three weeks as the result of an AFL operators' strike.

Almost everyone is taking the tuiup in stride. If they can't find other means of transportation, residents walk or hitchhike.

Commuter trains, independent bus lines, taxicabs and private autos are taking up the transportation slack. That's a pretty big job in a city of 700,000—12th largest in the nation—which is the center of a metropolitan area with more than two million population.

Car pools have been formed in many neighborhoods and share-the-ride stations have been set up at some taxicab stands.

However, the strike is felt keenly by merchants in the Golden Triangle. Estimates of the drop in business range as high as 50 per cent.

Bride Weeps At Delay

CHICAGO (AP)—Robert Edward Calek's marriage to Roselyn Marie Benz 23, was about to begin Thursday when the minister asked Calek, 26, for the license.

He'd forgotten it.

He'd forgotten the ring too.

His father dashed back to their home for the missing essentials.

The wedding at the bride's home was delayed two hours.

The bride wept.

The guests snickered.

McCarthy Quiz Claim Disputed By White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today directly disputed the declaration by Sen. McCarthy that it is the duty of federal workers to report to Congress what they may know of communism, treason or other crimes.

In a statement issued at the White House, Atty. Gen. Brownell said the constitution gives the executive branch of the government the "sole and fundamental" responsibility for enforcement of laws and presidential orders, including those to protect the nation's security.

"That responsibility," Brownell said, "can't be usurped by any individual who may seek to set himself above the laws of our land or to override orders of the President of the United States to federal employees of the executive branch of the government."

Talks To President

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty read the statement to reporters at the White House. The statement itself did not mention McCarthy but Hagerty said it referred to McCarthy's remarks at the Army-McCarthy hearings Thursday when McCarthy said:

"As far as I'm concerned, I would like to notify those two million federal employees that I feel it is their duty to give us any information which they have about graft, corruption, Communists, treason, and that there is no loyalty to a superior which can tower above and beyond their loyalty to their country."

Hagerty said he had received queries from newspapers for comment on McCarthy's remarks.

"I talked this morning with the President and the attorney general," Hagerty said, "and at the direction of the attorney general I should like now to issue the following statement in his name with the approval of the President."

Can't Override Laws

Hagerty then dictated the following from notes:

"The obligations and duties of the executive, judicial, and legislative branches of our government are defined by the constitution."

"The executive branch of the government has the sole and fundamental responsibility under the Constitution for the enforcement of our laws and presidential orders. They include those to protect the security of our nation which were carefully drawn for this purpose."

"That responsibility can't be usurped by any individual who may seek to set himself above the laws of our land or to override orders of the President of the United States to federal employees of the executive branch of the government."

Questioned further on the latter quotation, Hagerty said it had reference to both laws on the statute books making it illegal to give classified information to persons not authorized to receive it, and presidential directives on security matters.

Rebel Mortars Hammer Little French Garrison Near Hanoi

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—Vietnamese mole squads burrowed closer to the battered Red River delta post of Yen Phu today as rebel mortars continued to pound the little French Union garrison.

Following the same tactics that won them Dien Bien Phu, the rebels kept the thinly-manned defenses pinned down with mortar and machine gun fire while the attackers dug in around the mud-

Tail Of Tornado Hits Aurora, Ill.

AURORA, Ill. (AP)—The tail of a small tornado whiplashed this part of northern Illinois Thursday night, damaging some homes and felling hundreds of trees and utility poles.

Thunderstorms, strong winds and hail swept other parts of the state. Lightning broke a three-foot hole in the roof of a two-story house in Chicago's South Side.

No injuries were reported.

This section about 40 miles due west of Chicago was hardest hit.

The tornado first struck at Kaneville, about 20 miles northwest of Aurora, where it unroofed some trex.

shacks and tore down some trees.

Then the tail end of the twister hit here. It tore the roof off the home of William Russell, causing damage estimated at $3,000.

It felled trees and utility poles and tore down power lines.

Aurora police said stacks of trees blocked the city's streets.

Rain and hail caused postponement of the State High School Baseball Tournament at Peoria.

Noted World Traveler Poultny Bigelow Dies

SAUGERTIES, N. Y. (AP)—Poultny Bigelow, 98, author and world traveler whose outspoken views involved him in many controversies through the years, died today.

He has been ill and in the Dale Sanitarium here since mid-January. Since 1950 he had made his home at nearby Malden.

Bigelow was a boyhood playmate of the late Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany and they remained friends until the Kaiser's death in 1941 except for one quarrel at the outbreak of World War I.

Bigelow condemned the Kaiser as having started the conflict.

However, their friendship was renewed in later years.

Search Continues For Smugglers Of Guns To Guatemala

PANAMA (AP)—French Line representatives say U.S. customs men on the hunt for contraband arms finished their search of the freighter Wyoming Thursday night without finding "anything abnormal."

While the Wyoming was held at the Atlantic mouth of the Panama Canal, officials in Washington said a vast sea search is under way for two ships suspected of carrying more Communist arms to leftist Guatemala. The Caribbean republic already has received a 2,000-ton arms shipment loaded at the Polish port of Stettin.

Customs men halted the Wyoming Wednesday as she headed for the canal en route to El Salvador and Guatemala with a cargo from London and Antwerp.

U. S. officials said the search was conducted with the full cooperation of the ship's owners and the French government.

There was no official announcement as to the results of the hunt, but the Panama Canal press office said the freighter's manifest listed six boxes of small arms, including one case of Browning automatic rifles consigned to El Salvador. The BAR is a combat weapon.

Guatemala, still nervous over a mystery plane which swooped over the capital Wednesday dropping anti-Communist leaflets, was without air service. The government ordered all airlines to bypass the capital.

CREW QUESTIONED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Swedish ship which delivered Communist-made arms to Guatemala is now at Key West, Fla., where the captain and crew are being questioned by U. S. officials.

This was disclosed today by State Department Press Officer Lincoln White in response to questions by newsmen. White issued a brief statement and said he could

Bentley Blasts Red Spies In US

SAGINAW (AP)—Rep. Alvin Bentley (R-Mich) drew loud applause Thursday night when he leveled a verbal blast against Russian diplomats in Washington and the United Nations.

"From the standpoint of moral justice as well as in protecting our own internal security, Soviet diplomatic spies must be expelled from this country, whether in Washington embassies or in the United Nations," he said.

Bentley spoke at a civic reception honoring him following his recovering from serious wounds suffered March 1 when Puerto Rican fanatics opened fire in the House.

The Owosso Republican told the overflow crowd, "There is no reason to permit Communist diplomats to live among us to engage in espionage and sabotage wherever possible."

He said his view was shared by Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich).

Bentley said he and Ferguson succeeded in obtaining the closure of Communist Poland consulates in New York, Chicago and Detroit.

"Likewise, I strongly advocate the expulsion of the Soviet Union from the United Nations if for no reason than on the grounds of her activities in Korea," he said.

Communist Gunboats Attacked Off China

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist warplanes attacked four Communist gunboats off the China coast today, sinking one and damaging the others, the defense announced.

The gunboats were attacked north of the Tachen Islands, scene of a series of aerial and naval skirmishes in recent weeks. The Tachens lie about midway between Formosa and Shanghai off Chekiang Province.

A 400 ton vessel is listed as sunk, a 200 ton craft as severely damaged, and two as hit.

The announcement made no mention of how many Nationalist planes took part in the attack, but said all returned safely.

Australians Cast Votes Saturday

By GORDON TAIT

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—An all-time record of more than five million voters will decide in general parliamentary elections Saturday whether Australia will continue under the present free enterprise coalition or return to socialism.

Despite the fact this is the prime issue in the voting for 123 members of Australia's lower chamber, the House of Representatives, it has been the quietest election campaign since the end of World War II.

Australians reckon this apathy is a sign the Liberal-Country Party coalition of Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies will be returned to office. The faction which wins the majority of seats in the House chooses the government.

Voting in Australia is compulsory, and those eligible who fail to go to the polls are subject to fines.

The most powerful opposition to the Conservative Menzies government is the Labor party. The Laborites were in control in Australia throughout World War II and until 1949, when they were ousted by the present coalition. Former Foreign Minister Dr. Herbert V. Evatt is the Laborite leader.

France To Free Veterans For Indochina War

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS. (AP)—Premier Joseph Laniel's Cabinet decided today to call up 80,000 troops of this year's draft class four months ahead of time so as to free other soldiers for combat in Indochina, a Cabinet spokesman announced.

The 80,000 troops, forming the second and final group of the 1954 military conscription class, are expected to be on duty within 15 days, the Cabinet spokesman said. All are men aged 20.

Defeat Brings Crisis

The Cabinet acted on the recommendation of the National Defense Committee, which has been holding highly important day and night meetings since Gen. Paul Ely, chief of staff of the French forces, and two other generals returned with a special report on the deteriorating French position in Indochina since the fall of Dien Bien Phu.

There was no suggestion, however, that plans were in the wind to send draftees to Indochina. That would be an explosive change in policy.

The only men who actually will be sent to Indochina to fight the Communist-led Vietnamese will be professional soldiers. A French law of 1950 prevents the sending of draftees to fight outside France.

Go To Quiet Areas

The hurriedly called up remnants of the 1954 class will be stationed in France or quiet areas in North Africa to replace professional soldiers sent to Indochina. The Cabinet spokesman did not give any indication that the Cabinet had discussed changing the 1950 law.

The question of using others than volunteers has been pushed into the background. It is political dynamite. It may have to be brought up for discussion, however, if the

Pensions Boosted By Dow Chemical

MIDLAND (AP)—The Dow Chemical Co. gave many of its salaried employees a supplementary retirement plan today to raise their stay-at-home pay over the social security level.

The company said the plan affects workers who make more than $3,600 a year — the social security base. It is separate from the Dow pension and profit sharing plan.

More than 2,000 salaries workers with five years service or more are eligible for the plan which is retroactive to June 1, 1953. The company said it would be the sole contributor to the unique trust fund which finances the plan.

The company will pay three per cent of the employee's salary above $3,600 into a fund which will be invested in Dow stock. The stock dividends and other stock incomes will be turned back into the fund.

Dow spokesmen said the plan benefits primarily those whose income rises over the $3,600 level. Social security retirement benefits, the company said, pay 25 per cent of the income of a $4,100-a-year man. But a man making $7,600 a year receives only 14 per cent of his total income in social security payments.

FOLLOWING A STRAIGHT AND NARROW PATH—It's often said that the road to a successful marriage is a straight and narrow path. But few will be straighter or narrower than the one started by acrobats Roger Desguis and Berthe Omankowski in Toulouse, France. After exchanging vows in a church, Roger, 25, and Berthe, 21, waved to the crowd of over 20,000 at left. Then the couple walked out on a tight-wire 60 feet above the street where Abbe Simon, perched on a fireman's ladder, right, gave them his blessing.

Damp Weather To Continue

Rain and heavily overcast skies are due to prevail tomorrow and possibly over the holiday weekend, says S. W. Kipper, in charge of the Escanaba weather bureau. The misty precipitation of yesterday afternoon turned to a real soaker during the night. Precipitation measurements taken at the local weather station show that .34 of an inch of rain fell during the night.

Similar weather throughout the middle west is indicated in the general reports with thunder showers prevailing in southern Wisconsin and Iowa.

Temperatures also are generally lower. Escanaba's high yesterday was 51. The low at 6 a. m. was 45 which at 10 had risen a mere four degrees.

Temperatures will remain below normal for another day at least, says Kipper.

Robert Rhodes, the mortician, told Marinette County sheriff's officers that he did not see the child. He was planning to drive the hearse to Madison Wednesday and was enroute to a service station to have it serviced when the accident happened.

Marinette Coroner Robert L. Thompson said the child died instantly. There will be no inquest.

Straits Bridge Gets Off To Good Start

LANSING — Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, today announced that $1,280,000 of the $96,400,000 revenue bond issue for the Mackinac Bridge was spent in the first quarter of construction.

The first quarterly report showed that nearly $800,000 had been paid to the foundation contractor, $280,000 to the engineers, $200,000 for preliminary expenses and nearly $6,000 for administrative expenses. "It looks like we are off to a good start and I am very pleased," Brown said.

The report showed that seven steel survey towers have been constructed for observations throughout construction.

Final drawings for 12 of the 34 piers have been completed and complete details for all but four of the 28 truss spans have been submitted to the American Bridge Division of U.S. Steel, the superstructure contractor.

Merritt-Chapman and Scott Corp., the foundation contractor, has built a temporary pier at St. Ignace for loading and unloading materials. A similar installation has been completed at Mackinaw City and pier facilities on the causeway at St. Ignace are under construction.

Merritt-Chapman and Scott have ordered $2,204,000 worth of equipment and more than $6,000,000 worth of materials. The steel caisson for the south cable pier has been delivered to Toledo for assembly, and it will be floated to the bridge site. It will be 48 feet high, will draw 22 feet of water, and will be 90 feet long and 40 feet wide.

The authority awarded Merritt-Chapman and Scott a $200,000 contract to make 72 probes and 43 rock core borings to confirm information upon which the foundation design was based.

City Department Heads Get 2% Salary Increase

Escanaba City Council in special budget adoption meeting ending early this afternoon voted a 2 per cent salary increase for all department heads, but reduced by one-third the car allowance for department heads and other city employees using their personal cars on city business.

In prior meeting the Council had raised the pay by 4 per cent "across the board" for all civil service employees.

City Manager A. V. Aronson recommended that department heads be "given the same consideration as other employees."

Mayor Harlan Yelland contended the city's administrative cost is too high, but advocated pay raises for department heads receiving less than $5,000 per year.

Councilman Edward J. Cox moved that department heads, including the city manager, receive a pay boost of 3 per cent. Only "yes" votes to the motion were by Councilman Cox and Councilman Wesley Hansen, who had supported the motion.

Approve 2 Per Cent
"No" votes were cast by Mayor Harlan Yelland and Councilman Jacob Bink.

Councilman Robert E. LeMire was absent from the meeting.

Following lengthy discussion Mayor Yelland moved that department heads receive 2 per cent and that the car allowances for department heads and others using private cars on city business be cut by one-third below last year.

Mayor Yelland, Councilmen Hansen and Bink voted "Yes," and Councilman Cox voted "no."

In other business the Council adopted the city budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, and the necessary appropriation and tax rate ordinances.

Gas Rates Down
The Council set June 7 as the date for hearing of the utility rate ordinance for the ensuing year.

Utility rates remain unchanged for the coming year except for gas, in which rates both residential and commercial have been reduced.

In discussion of the water utility rate it was revealed that parochial schools were not being charged the minimum rate as required by ordinance. This was changed to place the parochial schools on the same basis as the public schools, the city, and the cemeteries, which are all charged the minimum rate.

The Council, at the request of commercial fishermen, offered its cooperation in working out a solution to the problem of dockage for the boats. A site on the north bay shore, where dock piling could be capped, was suggested. By ordinance the fish boats are not permitted to dock in the yacht basin.

Purchase Property

Council authorized the city to purchase 80 acres of land, the Steede property, near the airport, so that an airport runway can be extended. The price is $7,500. A 40-acre tract in the airport area, owned by Harold Gasman, was authorized for purchase at $350 for the land and Gasman was given the privilege of removing the timber.

A bid of $900 for fireworks for the Fourth of July was referred to the recreation director for analysis and report.

The Council received a report from Wilber Slye, secretary of the Carpenters Union, Local 1832, that "outsiders" were applying for membership and siding in Escanaba without applying for or receiving permits from the city, as required by ordinance. He said they were employing non-union, outside, labor.

The Council by motion directed that the persons operating without building improvement permits in the city be brought in and required to obtain permits or be prosecuted for violation of the ordinance.

Boost Chief's Pay

A report of the Power Advisory Committee relative to its study of the local power problem was received and placed on file.

Salary of the police chief was increased to range from $4,500 to $5,000 and for fire chief from a starting $4,620 to a top $4,900.

The Carnegie Public Library staff, not under civil service, were granted a pay increase of 2 per cent. The Library Board had recommended 4 per cent.

Council received and filed a communication from Perkins and Will, Chicago architects who have made preliminary studies in connection with proposed construction of a bandshell in Ludington Park, that 8 per cent is its lowest fee for the project.

MARQUETTE—Radioman Second Class George W. Niemann of Marquette was aboard the aircraft carrier, Bennington, when it was hit by explosions and subsequent fire Wednesday, but was not injured.

IRON RIVER—There will be no Fourth of July celebration at Iron River this year, the Tri-Post council announces. Instead, however, the Tri-Post council will cooperate with the Stambaugh Volunteer Firemen's association in the Independence Day observance and county firemen's tournament to be held in Stambaugh on July 3-5.

MEMONINEE — Menominee is in for a treat Monday when the DAR Boys' Club Drum and Bugle Corps makes its first public appearance in the Memorial Day parade. The corps, composed of 60 boys age 9 to 17, has been drilling twice a week or oftener since January and has marched a couple hundred miles getting into condition and learning drills.

IRON RIVER—An old barn of hewn - log construction burned swiftly to the ground Wednesday noon on the Walter Nordstrom farm near Beechwood. Children playing around an adjacent outdoor toilet are believed to have set that structure on fire and the flames quickly spread. The farm is a quarter mile north of US-2 about a mile west of Beechwood.

Kept Money In Corsage Package

DETROIT (AP)—Burglars worked for hours over a safe in a flower shop, but couldn't break it open. Before departing, however, they reached into a flower refrigerator and took some corsages and boxes in which to put them.

Their decision to take flowers, cost the shop $374. The owner explained: "For years I've kept of office supplies in the safe and money in a corsage box in the refrigerator."

New Type Paint Is Introduced By Ness Glass Co.

The secret is out. For several years many home owners have been wondering where certain of their neighbors have been getting the new type house paint which looked better, lasted better, and was better than anything they had here-to-fore seen.

The paint was a new "breather type" paint as well. Moisture underneath the paint surface escapes through the paint's pores with no injury to the paint film or its protective properties. In other words, moisture "breathes" through from the inside but does not penetrate from the weather side, thereby eliminating peeling. This paint can be sprayed or brushed on.

This paint equals or even exceeds the life of the best-grade conventional type paint. It protects the surface with a durable "oil-rich" film that is wear, moisture and weather resistant. This paint is known commercially as Hoffer Certified Low Sheen Exterior Paint and can be obtained locally at the Ness Glass Co., 1628 Ludington Street in Escanaba. The paint has a rich, glareless, velvety tone and comes in twelve standard colors which can be mixed to form any one of a thousand color combinations.

Hoffer Paint covers 450 to 500 square feet per gallon and one coat does the trick, completely hiding the surface underneath. This paint normally requires no thinner, just stir and start painting. There are no shiners, dead spots, laps or brush marks and rainfall carries away dirt and soot leaving the surface always colorful and attractive. This paint is made particularly for areas along the lakes where damp humid conditions exist.

GARDEN—The Junior High School students of the Catherine Bonifas School, who made the bus trip to the Copper Country this past weekend, returned to their homes late Sunday evening, much richer in their knowledge of the beauty of the Upper Peninsula.

The group left at 5 a. m. Saturday, stopped at the Baraga State Park for lunch and arrived at Houghton a little before noon. After checking into their rooms at the Douglas House, they started on the first excursion of the day, a visit to the Arcadian Mine in Ripley. Here the group made its way into the underground mine tunnel, where they saw how copper is located and taken in its raw state. Huge "floats" of the metal weighing several tons were seen, and the students were able to pick up small specimens for themselves.

They found the air to be cold and damp in the mine, partly due to the fact that there was a 70 foot deep pool of cold water near the mine's entrance. At one place on the tour of the mine, they were told that they were 800 feet underground.

After leaving the mine, the bus took them to Hubbell to visit the reclamation plant. At this plant, the students observed how copper is salvaged from stamp sand which had been dumped into Portage Lake during the earlier days of mining. Today a new process has been developed whereby more metal can be extracted from the rock and sand than in previous days gone by. A huge suction pipe extends into the lake from the mill and carries the sand onto a conveyor where it is washed and screened to remove the copper particles.

The group then boarded the bus, which recrossed the bridge back to Houghton, to visit Michigan College of Mining and Technology. They were escorted around the campus and through the various buildings by one of the professors, who generously gave them his time, and he explained the purpose of each building.

A rest period and dinner were most welcome after the busy afternoon. In the evening, the group attended a movie and the Copper Country Band Festival at the Dee Stadium. Members of the newly organized Garden School band were greatly impressed at what can be accomplished by practice and work together, and they look forward to the day their band will play in a music festival.

The next morning, Sunday, the school students attended early church services after which they were served breakfast, and then they departed for Copper Harbor. They were surprised to see snow banks in the Keewenaw land so late in the spring. The trip up the Brockway Mountain was a little frightening as the tree tops beneath the bus were slowly diminishing in size. When the bus arrived at the top of the mountain, the group was able to look 500 feet below. They saw a tangled mass of wreckage which only several days previous had been a new Buick parked on the mountain that had gone over the ledge.

Northern most stop on the trip was Fort Wilkins where the group visited the museum and the fort buildings. They also had their lunch there in the park.

At 5:30 p. m., the group was back at Houghton, packed and ready to start the trip home. They stopped at the buffalo ranch near Sagola hoping to see the herd and they saw one old shaggy buck in the distance. A late supper was eaten in Iron Mountain, and for the rest of the journey no stops were made until the students homes were reached.

Economics Club

GARDEN — Members of the Kates Bay Home Economics club held a meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Guertin. Plans were made for a picnic meeting May 26, and the group decided to hold meetings once a month during the summer. The next meeting will be held June 17 at the home of Mrs. Louis Farley. Following a business meeting, a pot luck lunch was served.

Briefs

Mrs. Victor Borga and daughters Rosalie and Celeste, visited at her parental home in Painsdale over the weekend.

Mrs. Roy Hivala and children visited with relatives in Hubbell over the weekend.

Classes at the Catherine Bonifas School were dismissed Wednesday, May 26, for the summer vacation. Classes will be resumed August 30. The grade school children enjoyed their picnic at Indian Lake Monday.

Commencement Season Is Here, Time For Important Decisions

THIS is commencement season in the nation's high schools. It is the time when young men and women complete their high school education, receive their diplomas and consider their new role in the nation's economic and social order.

It is called commencement because although it is the end of high school training, it is the beginning of a new life for the graduates. It is a time of important decisions.

Difference Between Life And Death

THE miracles produced by chemistry have beneficially influenced the lives of everyone. And in some instances, they have literally meant the difference between life and death.

Here is just one dramatic instance of that. Pernicious anemia used to be almost invariably fatal, and was responsible for 50,000 deaths a year in this country. It was discovered that a liver diet provided a remedy, but no one knew why. A problem lay in the large daily quantity of liver that sufferers from the disease had to eat.

In 1948, a chemist isolated the key substance contained in the liver for the first time—vitamin B-12. It possessed amazing powers and only a microscopic amount had to be taken each day. However, it required a ton of liver to produce 1/200th of a teaspoon of the precious vitamin—which meant that supplies were limited and extremely expensive.

The chemists and the chemical industry kept on working. Finally, it was discovered that cultures of the same micro-organism which produces streptomycin could also produce vitamin B-12. That solved the supply problem—and within two years prices to the consumer of this life-saver were cut 97 per cent!

Chemistry makes for better living—and for life itself

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

QUESTION: In a leading news magazine I find the following statement: "Nothing did more to prod the public conscience than the shocking pictures taken by the late Lewis Hine, one of the early greats of U. S. documentary photography." My desk dictionary does not carry any entry of "great" as a noun. Is this a new usage of the word? B. L. W., Oakland, California.

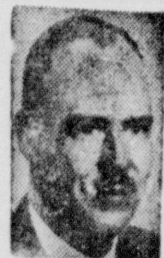

ANSWER: Phrases like "an all-time great" and "one of jazz music's greats" are becoming increasingly common in journalistic writing. If you go to the unabridged dictionaries, you will find a noun definition of "great" as "one who is or those who are powerful and influential." It seems to me probable, however, that this new colloquial use results from sloppy writing rather than from any conscious effort to bring this little-used meaning of "great" back into general circulation. What the writer intended, of course, was "one of the early great U. S. documentary photographers."

A Chicago veteran of the first World War writes to comment on the term "The eagle flies" meaning "Payday is here." In his service days, he comments, the phrase ran "The eagle screams" and he thinks the reference was to the amount of pay they received—so low that even an eagle would scream in anguish.

A Greenwich (Conn.) correspondent comments on a recent column in which we discussed juvenile mispronunciations which somehow seem more effective and emphatic than the correct pronunciations learned in maturity. The pronunciation MY-z'd for "misled" was one example; lass-ih-VISH-us for "lascivious" another.

Two which are dear to the heart of our Greenwich reader are "curvestone" for "curbstone" and "bunk" for "bump," as in the sentence: "He bunked into me and that started the fight!"

The Doctor Says...

Victim's Spirit and Ambition Important in Treating Polio

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

The first step in the care or treatment of polio victims after the acute illness is over is to make sure that pain is relieved and the relaxation of muscle tightness is speeded.

Until this is done, proper motion of the involved part, usually arm or leg, is impossible. The use of intelligently prescribed sedatives, heat, passive motion and especially the passage of time all work toward this end.

STIMULATING MUSCULAR movements must be carried out with great care. Several measures, including massage, may be necessary. Once the plan of action has been decided upon it is possible to proceed with the various measures necessary to bring about the greatest possible degree of muscular recovery.

Muscle strength is obtained by increasing the amount of activity gradually. Exercises under water helps enormously. The water supports the limbs so that they can be moved with less effort than is necessary ing, it is the beginning of a new life for the graduates. It is a time of important decisions.

Whether to enter the labor market immediately or go to college for advanced training is a problem that faces each youngster. For the boys a new possibility is added—whether to enter the armed services now or later. Every able bodied young man past the age of 18½ is subject to military service. Under certain circumstances he can postpone his service until he graduates from college, if he chooses to get his advanced education first.

High school graduates this year enter a rather tight labor market, moreso than in past years. Job prospects are not as bright as they have been, with the result that it is possible a large percentage of young men will enlist in the armed services following their graduation.

Even with the complicating factor of military service, more and more youngsters are going on to colleges and universities following their high school training. Job standards are increasingly higher and in this age of mechanical and scientific innovations, more skilled workers are required in industry and in the professions.

Impetus is given to college training through a sharp increase in scholarship grants, particularly in Escanaba. The Norton Fund, largest of the scholarships, will provide substantial assistance to a number of Escanaba High School graduates, but other scholarship grants also are available.

Dog Helps Bite Government

A 60-day jail sentence was slapped onto a Phoenix, Ariz., truck driver because for two years he listed one "Daisy Mae" on his income tax forms as a dependent. Daisy Mae is his dog.

Perhaps the man will now appeal on the ground that the courts have heretofore recognized man's furry and hairy friends as legal entities. Now and then some benefactor bequeaths enough largesse to one of these noble creatures to keep him in cat food or dog biscuit for half a century.

We have a hunch, though, that the authorities are going to remain pretty firm about this case. The only cats and dogs they're likely to recognize are the stocks and bonds that fall into that category and allow a fellow to ring up some losses.

REVISING SOCIAL SECURITY LONG, SLOW OPERATION (Duluth News Tribune)

Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-N. Y.) of the house ways and means committee says that the group will try to report out at least one of the social security bills prepared by the health, education and welfare department, embodying recommendations by President Eisenhower.

If enacted, this bill will make the social security blanket wider and thicker, too. It would extend protection to 10½ million persons not now covered. Payments and the tax base would be increased. The exemption (now $75 a month) on earnings by retired wage-earners and retired self-employed persons would be raised and re-stated as $1,000 a year without loss of old age and survivors' insurance benefits.

Secretary Hobby of the health, education and welfare department, has testified as to the soundness of the basic ideas in the President's proposals—that contributions of workers and employers should support the system and that benefits should bear a relationship to the past earnings of the individual worker.

Able actuaries have shown that by 1980, or maybe sooner, all the money paid into the fund will have been paid out, while vast obligations will remain, to be paid by the people, some not yet born, who will then be of working age.

Long before that we shall probably see other changes. Real control of inflation is, of course, the indispensable key to success in any retirement plan.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Karl Mundt, the perspiring, unweary senator from South Dakota who presides over the McCarthy hearings, got aboard the little trolley car that runs between the Senate office building and the Capitol the other day. With him was ex-Sen. Ernest McFarland of Arizona, former Democratic leader of the Senate.

"Karl," said McFarland, "you ought to run for President. You've had a tremendous build-up. You ought not to waste all this publicity. You've got to run for President."

The Republican senator from South Dakota looked both sheepish and reluctant. He gave the impression of one who wanted to shun the McCarthy hearings, shun the presidency, even shun the trolley car under the Capitol.

But his friend from Arizona persisted. Turning to Sen. William Fulbright of Arkansas who had just boarded the car, McFarland said:

"Bill, don't you think that, with all this TV publicity, Karl has got to run for President?"

"Yes," said Fulbright, "either for president or for a hole."

BEHIND FRANKIE COSTELLO

Behind the recent conviction of Frankie Costello for income-tax evasion is a long history of backstage government maneuvering, some against Costello, some aimed at keeping him out of jail. It dates back about seven years. The men who really deserve credit for convicting the kingpin of the gambling world are Justice Tom Clark, former attorney general; Harry Anslinger, the indefatigable narcotics commissioner; and Senator Kefauver, whose crime probe focused attention on Costello in such a way that even the most powerful officials could not afford to buck public opinion.

Two of the official suspected of trying to shield Costello from income-tax prosecution are now under indictment.

Perhaps the most amazing feature of the whole Costello story is that it would have been possible, as early as July 21, 1947, to send Frankie back to his native Italy. For it was on that date that this writer first exposed the fact that Costello, in taking out his American citizenship, had perjured himself by failing to reveal that he had previously been convicted of carrying a concealed weapon.

However, thanks to powerful friends in high places, Costello never was deported. In fact, he even seemed to enjoy the benign blessing of certain crime-busting officials in New York. For it was Costello and Costello alone who carried a suitcase out to Ellis Island to bid farewell to Lucky Luciano when Governor Dewey let Luciano out of a 99-year rap in Sing Sing.

COSTELLO'S LOBBYIST

Of the many, many stories I have written about Costello, there is one I regret. It told of Costello's Washington lobbyist, Murray Olf, and his association with certain congressmen. I do not regret writing about Murray Olf, but I do think I was guilty of practicing a certain amount of McCarthyism on the congressmen—namely, guilt by association.

What happened was that Olf occasionally entertained a small group of congressmen in his apartment at the Congressional Hotel, including Phil Welch of Missouri, Jim Murphy of Staten Island, N. Y., Ed Willis of Louisiana, Louis Rabaut of Michigan, Chester Korsi of Buffalo and a few others.

I reported this fact during a series of articles on Costello. And although the congressmen do not deny being present at the Olf parties, they have since convinced me they had no idea they were being entertained by Costello's local representatives. So I think it's only fair to make this fact clear. Some of them are excellent public servants and a little unwitting relaxation should not be held against them.

CIGARETTES AND LUNG CANCER

While I am getting things off my chest, Dr. Alton Ochsner, the famed lung surgeon of Tulane University, has asked me to correct a statement he made, and which I quoted, to the effect that the Associated Press had killed a story by their Denver correspondent regarding the effect of cigarettes on lung cancer.

Dr. Ochsner says that while the Denver AP man did show him a "kill" from his office following Ochsner's speech in 1948, he has now received a letter from Alan Gould of the AP in New York stating that the dispatch from Denver was "eliminated" because it was "improperly written, in that it included gratuitous and editorial expressions."

"For example," explained Mr. Gould, "it started with this sentence: 'The cigarette companies won't like this, but a man who ought to know, thinks a lot of citizens are digging their own graves with their lungs.' And it ended with this statement: 'So take a deep drag off that cigarette, brother. And think it over.'"

A substitute story was sent out by the AP. Mr. Gould states, "This correctly quoted Dr. Ochsner to the effect that 'the incidence of cancer of the lung has soared upward in a line parallel with that of the cigarette sales chart.'"

However, the substitute story also contained a statement quoting Dr. Ochsner as saying: "There is no conclusive proof that smoking causes cancer of the lung." Dr. Ochsner informs me that he does not remember making such a statement, inasmuch as most of his address at Denver was devoted to the probability that cigarette smoking does induce cancer of the lung.

In brief, the AP did carry a modified story on Dr. Ochsner's remarks, after "eliminating" the original story. In fairness both to the AP and Dr. Ochsner, I am delighted to publish the above details.

Global Army Of U.N. Has Its Generals---But No Soldiers

By FRED SPARKS

UNITED NATIONS, New York —(NEA)—The UN has the generals and admirals for an international army—but no soldiers or sailors.

In fact, Russian generals and admirals often confer with U. S. generals and admirals on "plans" for a cooperative army.

In 1946, before the Soviet Union vetoed everything but dry martinis in the delegates' lounge, a Military Staff Committee was organized to blueprint a force with sufficient muscle to carry out UN directives.

After all, even the Rotary Club of North Platte, Neb., has a sergeant-at-arms; without a police force to club offenders, the UN is as useless as a bank without money.

Robert E. Sherwood, the late President Roosevelt's friend and speech writer, reported that at Tehran the President said the UN would have four policemen—the U. S., U.S.S.R., France and England. The president, like a lot of other people, did not realize the policemen would soon be tapping their billies on each other's noggings.

Today the Secretary General, Dag Hammarskjöld, admits: "The quest for security is pursued outside the framework of the UN."

The only time it was seriously suggested UN get tough was during the 1948 Arab-Israel war. The UN drew an armistice line and several orators urged mixed troops to guard it. The idea was resolutely to death.

Now the armistice line is violated by hit-and-run raiders from both sides. UN observers are helpless. They rush from incident to incident and wag fingers at the guilty party . . . and the guilty party sticks out his tongue.

The UN continues to live in a dream world — and a real UN army is a dream army. Its admirals and generals don't command a BB gun or canoe. But they are required to meet, like unemployed TV actors hamming before bathroom mirrors.

Twice a month polished cars arrive for the conference with high brass from Russia, U. S., Britain, Nationalist China and France . . . the "Big Five." Drivers don't even go to the parking lot; the gathering ends in a few minutes.

Our Admiral A. D. Struble nods a formal hello to Russia's General Ilya Saraiev; the chairman gavels order; someone says there is no business. Admiral Struble nods a formal goodbye.

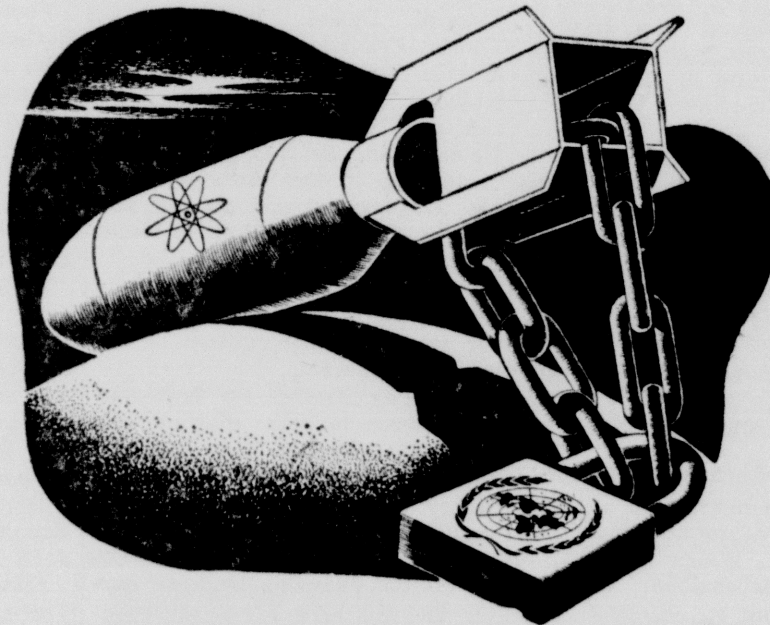

General Saraiev doesn't nod to General S. Ho. As far as Russia is concerned Nationalist China doesn't exist. Every few weeks, like a bored disk jockey reading an old commercial, General Saraiev wants to know why General Ho is here?

The interpreters chatter in a babel of voices. A slight wrangle ensues, and the drivers can finish their cigarettes.

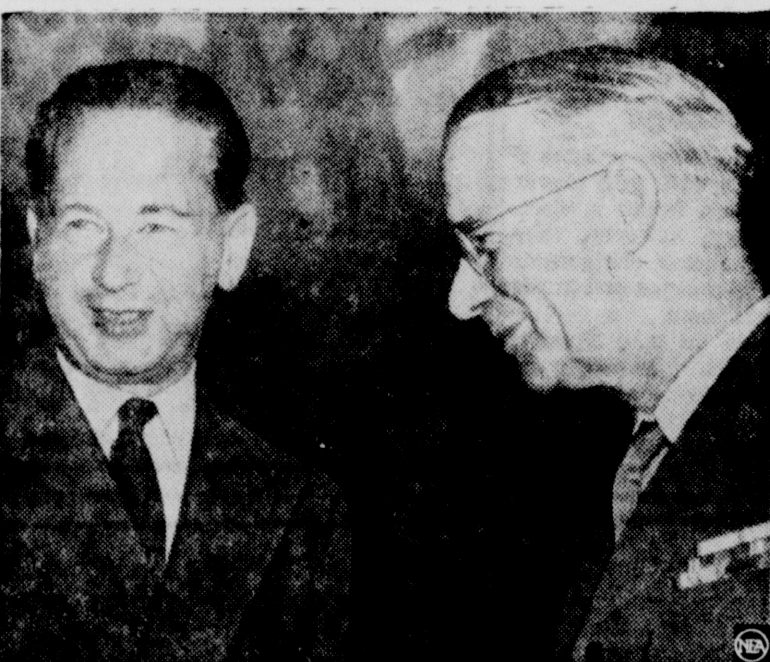

Technically, the Military Staff Committee should survey the allied army in Korea, which flies a UN flag. That would be like inviting Malenkoff to survey our H-bomb plants and bring his camera.

The Pentagon has been given command of the Korean Expeditionary Force and General Saraiev follows it — in the New York papers.

The UN has no secrets worth snooping. It's wide open—the UN SYMBOL AND A SLOGAN: Illustration is for Point Nine of charter, "... to maintain international peace and security." But today the quest for security is pursued outside the UN.

UN CHIEF AND A GENERAL: Lots of brass but no police force. (With Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, left, is Maj. Gen. Vaghn Bennike, chief UN truce observer in Palestine.)

world's largest tourist attraction. Bronx schoolgirls shoulder aside Argentine cowpokes to aim Kodaks at the Britisher who tosses his monocle into place or the delegate from Yemen who wears a curved sword.

Moscow thinks the pickings are poor, for though the UN allows for 155 Russians on the payroll, they're only placed 29. However, security-minded critics fear these few Soviets are top level espionage operators who contact Americans.

Valentin Gubitchev, a UN "engineer," was arrested with Judy Coplon for snatching documents from the Justice Department, not UN. Valentin is a Red Army intelligence officer.

Nicolai Sijvorsov, formerly Russia's No. 2 man at the UN, was charged with organizing a spy ring and barred from the U.S. If Comrade Sijvorsov cared to live in the UN buildings, nicely air-conditioned — the FBI would be stumped.

They can tail him into Radio City (which the Soviet delegation loves madly) but the UN's East River skyscraper has "extra-territorial rights," like a foreign nation. The only official unit admitted without previous permission, in writing, is the New York Fire Department—during a fire.

Even though UN itself would frustrate Mata Hari, a Communist who refused a chance to get into UN when it was born should be stripped of his party card.

While there might have been some anti-American Americans in UN, there are still plenty of anti-Communists from Communist countries.

More than 100 UN employees intend to remain here as refugees for fear of being struck by rubber hoses or hung by the neck or otherwise embarrassed.

Even if a UN employe denounces his own government—he keeps his UN job. He is a civil servant and can be sacked only for incompetence or drinking vodka during debates.

For example: When the Communists seized Czechoslovakia, that country's chief delegate, Vladimir Houdek, and several Czech UN employes moved to take out first U.S. papers. Being members of the opposition they knew they'd have no housing problem in Prague, but did not fancy one-cell apartments.

Today Communist delegates from Czechoslovakia grit their teeth when they encounter anti-Communist Czechs at UN desks. The anti-Communists grit back.

Perhaps that's the real reason Russia doesn't fill its quota. Comrade-citizens might find Radio City more fun than Red Square. (Tomorrow: A boom—or a boom-doggie?)

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

MEMORIAL DAY—Just around the corner of the weekend is Memorial Day—a patriotic holiday if you are not aware of the fact, and more meaningful than a day to go on picnics and consume potato salad and boiled ham.

The holiday originated at the close of the Civil War and was an outgrowth of an action by Southern women, who scattered flowers on the graves of soldiers—regardless of whether they were of the North or the South.

They honored the Northern dead as well as their own in this way. After the war (1868) General John A. Logan named May 30 as the day for honoring the graves of Union soldiers.

Logan was commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic—of which there is but one survivor. For many years the GAR veterans had charge of Memorial Day celebrations, a duty taken over after World War I by the American Legion.

Now on Memorial Day we honor those Americans soldiers, sailors and marines—who gave their lives for their country.

DAYS AND THE YEARS—Since Memorial Day is an annual event of such long standing, most of us remember other Memorial Days (we called it Decoration Day when I was a boy) of the past.

It was a day devoted to sober demeanor and not altogether enjoyable for the youngsters because it required being "dressed up."

Yet there were many compensations, including the parade of the veterans in their uniforms, the stirring roll of the drums and the exciting sound of the bugles as played by the drum and bugle corps.

Visiting the cemetery to decorate the graves was sometimes done the day before, but most often in the early morning of Memorial Day, so the flowers would be fresh.

And then there was the program. The speaker wore a black coat. Someone always recited the immortal lines of Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address." The words hung in the quiet air and lodged in the memory—"one nation, indivisible—" with liberty and justice for all—"shall not perish from the earth."

Sad it was, sad and big and reverent. Then came the rifle volley, the shots resounding, and the sound of taps. We left the cemetery feeling better for having joined in something the youngsters only partly understood.

But there were tears in the eyes of the women and my grandfather blew his nose and remarked, as he did each Memorial Day:

"Well, the ranks are thinning. Old Uncle Jim will be the next to go."

LEGAL HOLIDAY—Such is the background for Memorial Day, but to a growing number of Americans it has become little more than a legal holiday—a day for pleasure, a long weekend, for trips and visits marking the start of the summer vacation season.

More often than not the towns are deserted on Memorial Day, while the people go on picnics or go fishing, or just loaf in the springtime sun.

Perhaps this is to be expected. Yes somehow you wonder why the headlines are concerned with Memorial Day traffic deaths and drownings rather than the meaning of the day and what Memorial Day speakers have to say.

The flowers and the flags are still here, and they will be so long as there are parents who remember and the Legion to keep the memory alive.

NATIONAL AMNESIA—The loss of memory is called amnesia, and one wonders whether Americans may not be in the process of forgetting what Memorial Day really means.

If you are in town on Monday, May 31, Memorial Day, watch the parade on Ludington Street and follow it to Ludington Park. You may have no special reason for being there—but then again it may bring to you a fresh realization that America is free because it has been strong.

And its strength is in the firm conviction of its young men and women (many of whom never lived long enough to vote as citizens) that this nation was worth fighting for—and dying for.

These are the thoughts of Memorial Days past and present. They may help you know and understand why the flags wave and the graves are bright with flowers.

STREET ROD

by Henry Gregor Folsen

THE STORY: Because teenagers will have hot rods and reckless driving causes wrecks, Ricky Madison's father has taken the lead in organizing hot rod drivers to promote safety. A "drag strip" where the home-built cars can be tested is necessary and the proposition is presented to the city council.

Ricky stood up. "We've got this timing association we just formed, and we need a place to run our drag races. The idea is, if the city lets us have a place for the races, we'd pledge not to race or break any laws on the highway. And our members have to have their cars inspected for safety, and abide by..."

"Just a minute, young fellow," George Reynow interrupted. "What you were saying, you want the city to turn one of its roads over to you for a race track. If we don't, you'll race on all the highways. Sort of a blackmail proposition, I'd say."

"And it's about time you young fellows got it through your heads to obey the laws," the mayor added. "You don't come up here and tell us which laws you'll obey and which you won't. I guess not."

"You're not being fair!" Ricky's father shouted, his sharp face taut and angry. "I explained this proposition to all of you, and you all seemed to agree with it."

"You're prejudiced because you've got a boy here speaking his piece," Gus Vorkle said. "The more I think this over, the more I'm against it. The idea of the city providing a race track! What we want to do is get rid of this hot-rod driving, not encourage it. If we give 'em a track, it will look like we're telling them to build hot cars. We'll have every crazy souped-up jalopy in the state coming down here to race. I don't see it."

"But you don't understand!" Ricky cried. "If it's supervised... if we have a place, we won't want to use the highways... it's for safety..."

"Boy, you're the one who doesn't understand," the Mayor said. "It's about time you and all the others like you understood that we're sick and tired of these hot rods. If something isn't done we'll see that the legislature raises the driving age. Then where'll you be?"

George Reynow pursed his mouth into a prim, tight circle. "Seems to me the young people of this town don't appreciate anything wholesome. Dellville opened a recreation center where these young folks could get off the streets, but they never went near it. My wife used to supervise there. Said the only thing these boys wanted to do was annoy the girls. Now they're asking us to provide them with a race track. I think a curfew would do them more good."

Ricky's father was about to renew his argument for the boys when he noticed Ricky moving toward the council table, a stubborn fighting look on his flushed face. Madison waited to hear what his son had to say, proud of the way Ricky was fighting for his idea.

"Mr. Mayor," Ricky said, "I don't think I made myself very clear. Maybe it's my fault. We're not asking for a race track, and we're not trying to blackmail the city either. We're trying to help solve a problem."

He supposed they were listening. They didn't interrupt. "We also know that teen-ager drivers have a lot of accidents,"

Ricky continued. "That's why we formed the Dellville Timing Association. It's to promote safe driving in safe cars. And it's also to give us a chance to experiment with cars and engines and learn something. That's why we want what we call a drag strip. To give us a chance to work on our cars, and have competitions, and make it worth while for everybody to drive safely. A drag race is an acceleration race. It tests cars. They've done it in other places with good results, and we'd like to do it here. Otherwise we know there'll be drags in the street and on the highway."

Gus Vorkle shook his head. "That's just a new way of saying what you said before. You want the city to give you a race track and encourage hot-rod driving."

"The recreation center was fine for the little kids," Ricky said. "But we're too big to sit around and play checkers."

Mayor Travis banged his gavel on the table. "It won't do any good to sass the council, son."

"I'm not sassing," Ricky said. "I'm trying to explain." He looked around helplessly and saw Arnie. "Arnie," Ricky said. "What do you think about our idea?"

Arnie had been all for the idea, but now that the council had turned against it, he had to be careful. A couple of them thought he was too old and fat and lazy to be a policeman anyway.

"Who knows?" Arnie said. "Could be a good idea. Worth a try, maybe."

"You told me the other day it would make your job easier," Ricky said.

Charles Trumm snorted. "Part of our trouble in this town is a policeman who's looking for ways to make his job easy."

Arnie regarded Trumm mildly with his blue eyes. "You try taking that tired prowler car and running down a full-race Merc," Arnie said.

The Mayor tapped with his gavel. "You have heard the petition. All in favor of the race track say aye."

"Aye!" Ricky's father spat the word out angrily.

"Opposed signify by the usual sign."

The other councilmen grunted their negative vote. "Nays have it. Motion is defeated. If there is no further business before the council, we stand adjourned." The gavel tapped. The meeting was over.

Married In 1883

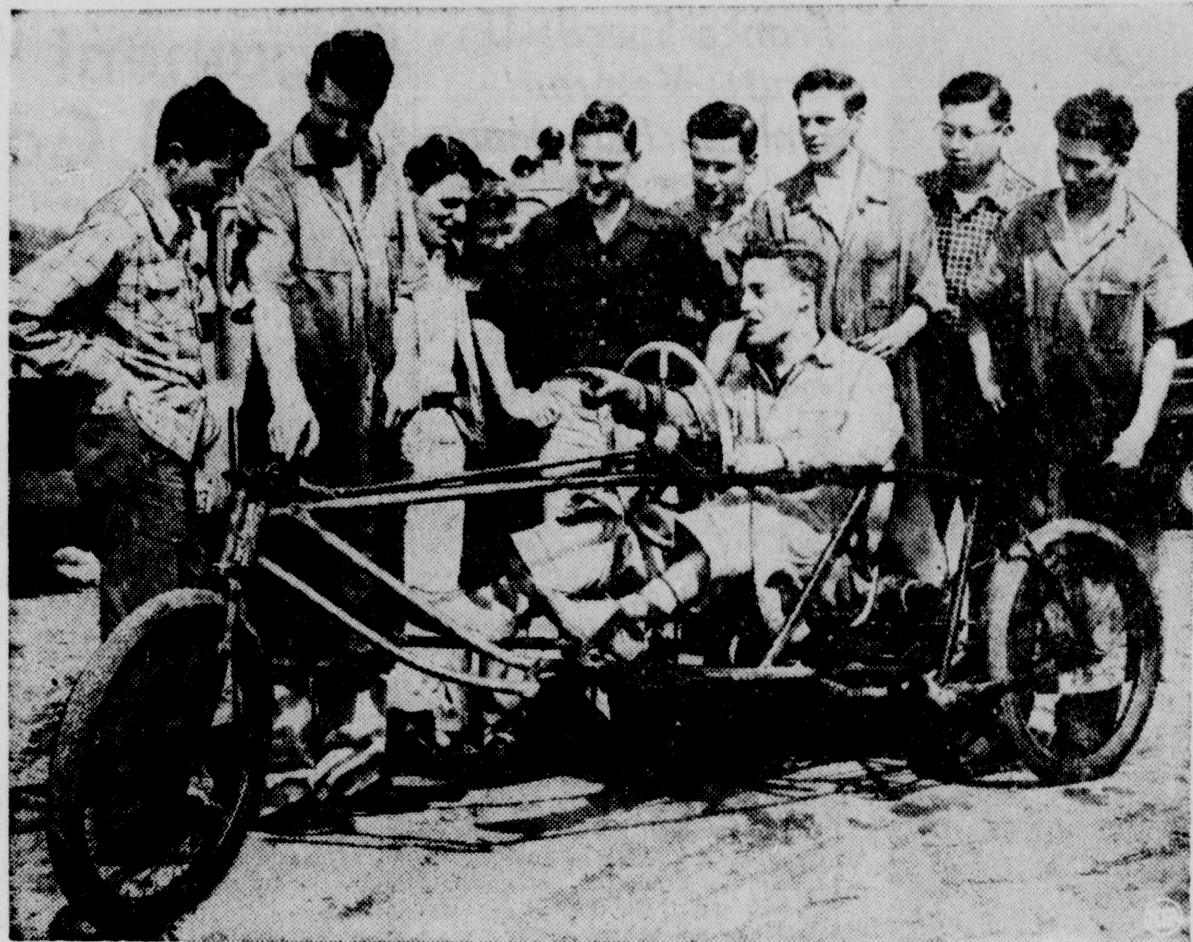

OWOSSO — Mr. and Mrs. William Duzenberry celebrated their 71st wedding anniversary Wednesday by seeing each other. And a press photographer made it possible.

Mrs. Duzenberry, 86, has been hospitalized for months and her husband, 90, was able to visit her only once due to ill health.

But the photographer induced the husband to accompany him to the hospital, where the pair posed for a picture. They were married May 25, 1883.

Can't Drive Again

DETROIT — A Wyandotte plumber, whose car ran down two girls last August, seriously injuring them, was fined $1,000 Wednesday and forbidden to drive again. He is George L. Sitek, 63. He pleaded guilty to felonious driving and admitted he had been drinking heavily at the time of the accident.

Bark River

BARK RIVER — Thirty-nine candidates for graduation, the largest class in its history, will receive their diplomas at the Bark River-Harris High School commencement exercises to be held Friday evening at 8 (EST) at the Bark River Community Hall.

The program will include a welcome address by Robert W. Johnson, president of the senior class, followed by the introduction of the night's speaker by Lee Richlen, superintendent of schools. On hand to give the commencement address will be Max Klein, lawyer and lecturer of Middleton, Wis. Music will be furnished by the high school band and individual students. Rev. Fr. Charles Carmody, pastor of St. George Church, Bark River, will give the invocation and benediction. Mr. Richlen will present the seniors with their diplomas.

A capacity audience was on hand Sunday night to hear a challenging baccalaureate sermon delivered by Rev. Philip Lindbloom, pastor of Salem Lutheran Church of Bark River.

The class motto, "The Gift of Choice is the Crown of Life," was the theme of the baccalaureate address.

To finish their high school days with added memories, the class recently completed a four day trip to Chicago by bus.

Sunday morning the class and their advisor were served a breakfast at St. George Church by mothers of the graduates. At four o'clock Wednesday the graduates, faculty, and school board members enjoyed a tea given by the ladies of Salem Lutheran Church, Bark River.

Merger Favored By Presbyterians

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Election of Dr. Albert E. Kelly of Pittsburgh as moderator of the United Presbyterian Church of North America makes it appear certain the group will vote for a merger with two other Presbyterian branches.

Dr. Kelly, general chairman of the church's Board of Administration for six years, has been a strong supporter of the proposal for unification. He was elected Wednesday, and the vote on the merger comes Saturday.

The other two branches are the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, a Northern faction of about 2½ million members; and the Presbyterian Church in the United States, a Southern body of about 750,000 members.

The Northern group, meeting in Detroit this week, voted unanimously to unite with the other two factions. If the other two groups approve, three fourths of the presbyteries of all three groups must endorse the plan to make it a reality.

With 220,000 members, the group meeting here is fairly compatible with the two other groups. It broke away from the mother church in Scotland over the issue of separation of church and state.

The line between the other two branches, however, is stronger. They split over the question of slavery in America.

Mounties Stoned By Doukhobors

GRAND FORKS, B. C. (AP) — Fifteen Royal Canadian Mounted policemen escorting a truant officer were attacked by 50 stone-throwing Sons of Freedom Doukhobor women near here Thursday.

Four of the women were arrested on assault charges, immediately taken to Nelson, B.C., 60 miles to the northeast, tried and sentenced to two months in jail.

The fracas occurred at Gilpin, a Freedomite settlement, when the Mounties accompanied Ralph McIntosh into the town so he could read a proclamation.

McIntosh lost an encounter with 20 nude women who scratched and clawed him Wednesday when he attempted alone to read his proclamation ordering the villagers to send their children to school.

The Sons of Freedom sect objects to sending children to Canadian schools on the grounds the schools teach militarism.

America Gasses Up For Holiday

CHICAGO (AP)—Millions of Americans gassed up their automobiles today for the first long weekend of the vacation and touring season.

By tradition the Memorial Day holiday is the accepted date for opening of summer cottages at lake resorts, for the start of the picnicking and tourist season.

The National Safety Council estimated that with good weather more than 35 million automobiles will be on the highways during the three-day holiday — Saturday, Sunday and Monday, May 30 falls on Sunday this year and Monday is being reckoned as the Memorial Day holiday.

The safety council estimated that the heavy travel may take the lives of 340 Americans between sundown today and midnight Monday.

For comparative purposes The Associated Press made an unofficial survey of accidental deaths for a similar 78-hour period on the weekend of May 14-17. The toll of 359 resulted from 243 highway deaths, 50 drownings and 66 deaths from miscellaneous causes such as airplane crashes, fires and farm mishaps.

Weather Interferes In Dramatic Manner

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Announcer Tom Van Tol was giving a daily newscast over Radio Station WGRD. He was soothing jittery listeners that no tornado threatened the area.

"There is no tornado in this area," he was saying. "I repeat, don't worry, you are in no . . ." and at that point silence.

Lightning had hit the station's transmitter causing a power failure.

A half-hour later the listeners weren't the only nervous persons in Grand Rapids. WGRD's switchboard operators worked up a sweat explaining what happened.

Detroit-Cleveland Passenger Ship To Be Ready Next Year

CLEVELAND (AP) — Passenger ship service between Cleveland and Detroit may be resumed next season after a lapse of four years.

Waterways, Inc., of Detroit made public Thursday a proposal to enter a $7,500,000 ship in the service. And J. Lee Barrett, president of the firm, said the vessel was being worked on now at Muskegon, Mich.

The proposal was announced as Barrett met here to discuss piers with Cleveland's Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze and Detroit's Mayor Albert E. Cobo. Celebrezze indicated a new Cleveland pier might have to be built if the service is to be resumed.

Barrett said a C-4 cargo ship—bought from the federal government — was being converted and would be ready by June, 1955.

The ship, he explained, will be able to carry 2,500 passengers and 165 automobiles at a cruising speed of about 22 miles an hour. That means it would take around five hours for the 120-mile trip between the two cities.

After 90 years, passenger service between Detroit and Cleveland stopped in 1951 when the D&C Navigation Co. tied up its ships at Detroit. Since then D&C has gone into other fields.

France Speeds Up Draft; Veterans Only In Indochina

United States takes a bigger hand in Indochina.

While both the United States and Britain sent draftees to Korea, France does not send them into foreign fighting in what is technically peacetime. It is forbidden by the 1950 law which made the conscription period 18 months instead of 12.

Until the defeat at Dien Bien Phu, the problem was not considered too critical. Enough volunteers could be recruited, at special rates of pay, to supply the forces France considered necessary to fight in Indochina. Now that is changed and manpower is needed.

War weary, discouraged, France wants peace most of all. If she can't get a negotiated pact at the Geneva conference, she insists she must have help if she is to go on fighting. A Cabinet member said recently: "France is not going to go on alone. If she doesn't get help, then she must find a way to lay down her arms honorably in Indochina."

France has sounded out the United States on the chances for help. Both French and American sources say this possibility is "not excluded" at present, but no commitments have been made.

Both sides say that if the United States sends effective numbers of air, sea or ground forces to help out with the fighting, draftees will have to be included. But would the U. S. Congress approve sending American conscripts to help when France refuses to send its own?

The French National Defense Committee has discussed briefly sending draftees but no decision has been reached. It is extremely unlikely the shaky Laniel government would make a move so loaded with political trouble.

Argument Over Deer Control Going Again

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

Associated Press Outdoor Writer

LANSING (AP)—Next year the sound and the fury about giving the State Conservation Commission discretionary power over the deer herd is due to start all over again.

After two deer seasons which included a period of shooting does and fawns as well as bucks in the northern Lower Peninsula, no one can honestly believe that the deer have been wiped out.

On a recent evening, this writer drove less than 25 miles on paved state trunklines in the heart of the any deer season country. A total of 43 deer by actual count were spotted.

Farmers Complain

This is almost two deer per mile on the average and far and away the greatest number of deer this writer ever saw in many evening deer spotting rides.

In another place in the any deer shooting area, a group of farmers are complaining there are far too many deer.

These are strawberry and raspberry farmers near Alpena who are frantically shooting deer under special permits to protect their crops.

It is true that there are large private hunting clubs in the area, some of them adjoining the strawberry farms. Many of the deer

So, what's the point of all this? That this fall is the last year that the Conservation Commission has discretionary power to increase the kill of deer in the Lower Peninsula.

The law granting that power did so for three years, and it runs out at the end of this year.

So one of the big conservation issues before the 1955 Legislature will be an extension of this power. Those interested should be making up their minds on how they stand on the question and informing their legislators of their wishes.

Cheerleaders: Dorothy Englund, Gloria Saari, Patricia Lusardi, 2 yrs.; Sharon Sayen, Lucille Lund, 1 yr.

Camp Fire Girls Send Eight Friendship Boxes To Korea

Eight Friendship Boxes for the "Help Korea Trains" have been packed by the Camp Fire Girls of the Bay de Noc Council and shipped to the special trains leaving Chicago for the Pacific coast. The trains will unload their freight into ships scheduled to leave the San Francisco Bay area early in June.

Always ready to answer calls for help in their own communities or overseas, local Camp Fire Girls joined with their 392,000 fellow members across the nation in this special friend-in-need gesture to the Korean children. Called Camp Fire Girls Friendship Boxes for Korea, the project is a part of the "Help Korea Trains" program sponsored by the American Korean Foundation to ship medical and educational supplies and other items from Americans to the people of South Korea.

According to Mrs. Edward C. Olsen, executive director, 51 members of the two age groups, Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls and the board of directors participated in this emergency drive. Many groups were deprived of participation because of the acceleration of activity required by the early deadline to accomplish the local part of the job.

"I commend the girls and adults who were able to contribute," said Mrs. Olsen. "It was really almost an overnight accomplishment, and they all worked very hard to have the boxes for final packing. The men of the Council took over the crating and their work was completed in time to ship the cases, securely nailed and plainly marked 'From the Camp Fire Girls of America,' to Chicago to meet the deadline."

Taking Part In Project
Those participating in the Help Korea project were: Mrs. Lawrence Klug's group of Camp Fire Girls including Patsy Grenier, Patricia Poquette, Judith Perle, Bernice Mihalic, Lorna King, Judith DeMars, Judith Way, Amber Christiansen, Suzanne Klug and Sandra Trombley; Mrs. Edward Sealander's group of Camp Fire Girls, Darlene Dufour, Emily Derouin, Barbara Kozar, Sandra Gustafson, Donna Pinar, Darlene Williams, Mary Cook.

Miss Jeanette Johnston's group of Camp Fire Girls, Patricia Gasman, Mary Kay Ettenhofer, Carolyn Ruwitech, Georgiana Coplan, Mary Krantz, Julie Roy, Judy Thompson; Mrs. Joseph Coplan's group of Blue Birds, Katherine Richardson, Jean Ferguson, Sandy Thorin, Marcia Baillegeon, Geraldine Novack, Virginia Olson, Susan Roberts, Janet Juhl, Kristen Korten and Susan Richards; Mrs. Robert Owen's group of Blue Birds, Odette Anuta, Darlene Hinkson, Jean Myrvall, Susan Mallman, Bonnie Lu Peterson, Sharel Vanderberg, Karen Reno, Judy Swanson, June Segorski and Carole Ann Peterson.

Adult members participating were Mrs. Warren Johnston, president of the local council, Mrs. Walter Peters, Mrs. Merritt Kason and Warren Johnston.

Friendship Greeting
Discarded cigar boxes, recommended by the AKF for size and durability, were transformed into Friendship boxes of the most practical kind as Camp Fire Girls filled them with articles listed by the Foundation. These included 5"x8" writing pads, pencils with erasers, pencil sharpeners, crayons, small scissors, needles, white spool cotton, purse mirrors, hard milled soap, wash cloths, bright hair ribbons, mittens, socks, head scarves, and small puzzles.

An extra touch of friendliness was added to many of the boxes in a greeting traced and pasted on the inside cover. The greeting was translated into Korean by the Korean Consul General in New York, and said, "Friendly Greetings from the Camp Fire Girls of the United States."

For dress wear and after-five gatherings, there's this white kid gauntlet (left) with gold-piped cuff and buttons of fake burnished gold. Dressy little daytime shorty (upper center) is cape-skin in white and pastels, has pretty leather flower at wrist-band. Glove for town and country (upper right) is soft, dove-gray peccary with hand saddle-stitching and chunky gold clasp. Thin, moonstone gray kid (lower center) has tiny cuff lined in contrasting white. Wristlet (lower right) is in glistening white kid, has cufflet wrist with V-construction and hand-sewn edge. The short glove is crafted in leathers of many weights this spring.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA)—The glove that's shorter than short is the outstanding leather glove for spring. It reaches just to the wristbone, may have a diminutive cuff or none at all.

This newly short glove is done in leathers of many weights and textures, from soft pigskin to the thinnest kid. It comes in gleaming white, sparkling pastels and the neutrals as well. It often has vents at side, back or palm and frequently features beautiful hand-stitching.

Decorative trim on these short gloves may take the form of chunky clasps of gold, silver or copper, seed pearls or jeweled-studded wooden buttons.

Important new colors for spring include the delicate flower tints and a group called "the northern lights": lotus blue, anemone pink, jonquil yellow, mint green and lavender mist. There are e.e. textured pigskins and ostrich leathers in these fresh and lovely colors.

Perforated leather gloves make more good news for women who prefer to wear leather straight through the summer. Such gloves have just been shown in pastel kids, white capes and textured leathers.

Treatment given to glove leathers this spring has made them softer than ever. The new kid-skins show a tissue-thin fineness, are soft and clinging. Capeskins are both lighter and more supple; pigskins are both soft and lustrous.

Here's a tip for cake-makers. Flour tends to pack on standing, so always sift it once just before measuring. If you don't sift, you may put as much as an extra half cup of flour in your cake and ruin it.

Sample Seeks Sheriff Post

A petition for Floyd C. Sample, of Thompson township, as a candidate on the Democratic ticket for the sheriff's nomination in the August primary was filed Thursday at the county clerk's office.

Sample's petition is the first filed for the sheriff post. Incumbent Sheriff John M. Hewitt, who this winter was ill, has not yet announced whether he would be a candidate.

The Thompson resident also was a candidate for the sheriff's post two years ago.

Deadline for filing petitions for the Aug. 3 primary is June 15. To date only one other petition has been filed, that of G. S. Johnson, as a Democratic candidate for nomination as prosecuting attorney.

Nominees for county offices, state and national, legislative posts and governor and lieutenant governor will be selected in the primary, and these will be voted on in the general election in November.

But it takes about 26 days for a mallard egg to hatch, and Hirsch said, "I'm not sure how long I can afford to wait."

Excess Wheat May Be Diverted For ASC Compliance

Wheat growers in Schoolcraft County who have overplanted acreage allotments may comply with the 1954 wheat allotment program by plowing under for green manure, pasturing, or cutting excess acreage for hay or silage, Leonard England, chairman of the county ASC committee reports.

Wheat standing after June 30 will be counted as "wheat" under the program and will be checked against the acreage allotted to the farm, England stated. Wheat from farms on which the acreage allotment has been exceeded will not be eligible for price support, he added.

Excess wheat from a farm with an allotment of more than 15 acres will be subject to a penalty of $1.12 per bushel. Farmers with an acreage allotment of 15 acres or less may produce as much as 15 acres of wheat without incurring market penalties. However, if the farm allotment is exceeded, the wheat will not be eligible for government price support.

Township Club Has Work Bee In Park Area

Again this spring, the Manistique Township Planning Club has held its annual work bee and tidied and cleaned the picnic grounds at the Township Park, located on the shores of Lake Michigan.

Each year a clean-up bee is held by the Planning Club, in conjunction with an annual get-together picnic. Women bring sandwiches and cake, and coffee is made in the park.

Four years ago, with the cooperation of the Township Board, 14 acres of land was purchased for a park. Since then, considerable improvements have been made by the Planning Club.

Build Picnic Stoves
Two picnic tables, one 48 feet long and another 24 feet in length, have been built, and a roof structure of rustic design has been constructed over the longer table, for protection against sudden rain storms.

Round poles, rafters and timbers were donated for the park improvements, and club members did the work.

Swings have been built for children, and a 3-acre area has been cleared and graded to provide a baseball diamond and play field. Top soil application and grass seeding are needed to complete the field. Concrete foundations also have been built, for rock-and-brick picnic stoves.

The Officers
Funds for the club's work are raised through community dances. The club contributes each year to the March of Dimes, Crippled Children's appeal, the Cancer fund and other community campaigns.

Its purpose is to improve the community in respect to health, safety, recreation, social activities and education. It also strives to promote better understanding of community projects and activities.

Present officers are James Huble, president; Mrs. Frank Arrowood, treasurer, and John Manning, acting secretary in the absence of Mrs. Joseph Carlson, who is ill.

O-JIB-WA BITTERS — THE BEST BUY I EVER MADE SAYS 81 YEAR OLD MAN

Mr. Z. S. Norton, 23 College Street, Battle Creek, recently had this to say about O-JIB-WA BITTERS. "Arthritis was drawing my fingers out of shape and shooting pains in my legs made sleeping impossible before using your wonderful medicine."

"Rheumatism and arthritis first hit me about 15 years ago, but didn't become severe until the past four years. My knees, neck, shoulders and fingers got stiff and ached terribly. I didn't know there could be such pains. My knees and ankles were so puffed up that I had to use crutches to get around. I had to be helped in and out of cars as I couldn't lift my legs. My fingers were drawing out of shape and shooting pains through my legs kept me awake at night. I spent several weeks in the hospital, but I was just as bad off when I left, and wondered what in the world I was going to do. I had tried about all the remedies I heard of; even those you rub on, but with no relief, and was about ready to give up when I read about O-JIB-WA BITTERS. The first bottle made me feel much better and soon all of the pains and stiffness left me, and I could sleep like a babe. I can dress myself again and get around good for a man 81 years old. I don't need aspirin for pain anymore or soda for my stomach either, as O-JIB-WA helped me in so many ways. I firmly believe that the best money I spent in my whole life was for O-JIB-WA BITTERS."

GLADSTONE

Budget Gets Approval Without Major Change

Without major change the budget for 1954-55 for the City of Gladstone was adopted as introduced by City Manager H. J. Henrikson at a special meeting of the City Commission Wednesday night at 9:30.

Although there were several fund changes, the total estimated expenditures remains at $171,141.00, more than $17,000 less than last year, while the tax levy is $53,020.00 or $4,531.00 more than last year.

Using $3,787,150.00 as the total assessed valuation of property in the city a tax rate of $14 per $1,000 assessed valuation will bring in the required amount of income.

Purchase of an inhalator was included among this to be purchased from the Fire Fund.

In the street fund an item for truck expense was changed in name to equipment expense and the estimated $12,000 needed was sheared to $7,500.00.

The $4,500 cut off equipment expense was tacked on the new equipment item in the same fund.

With the adoption of the budget, the appropriations ordinance, designed to authorize the levying of the required taxes was introduced.

He testified he ran away because of domestic difficulties, but Federal Judge Frank Picard told him: "You were the only one of the bunch who ran away. You lied like a trooper. You did not run away because of domestic trouble but because of the bank."

Martin Spitzley is a cousin of John Spitzley, the bank president who was in Florida at the time of the failure and who was acquitted last year of fault in its collapse.

Seaway Will Bring Boom To Michigan, Beukema Predicts

DETROIT (AP) — A Michigan Economic Development Commission spokesman predicts the long range impact of the St. Lawrence Seaway on Michigan economy will equal that of the automobile.

John Beukema, of Muskegon, the commission's transportation advisory committee, said Wednesday there will be a time lag until 1960 before the seaway becomes a reality "but its effect then on industrial Michigan probably will be as great as the invention of the automobile."

Beukema advised the commission to concentrate on a study of financial changes likely to result from the seaway.

"We should not think entirely in terms of foreign trade, but in the diversification an ocean port will bring, and in intercoastal trade and possibly the shifting of seaboard enterprises to gain the advantage of central distributing points," he said.

Welfare Club Installs Staff

Mrs. H. J. Skogquist was installed as president of the Child's Welfare Club at a meeting held Monday afternoon at the Gladstone Golf Club. Other officers are Mrs. Sylvester Martin, first vice-president; Mrs. Mel Nolan, second vice-president; Mrs. Joseph Schenberger, secretary and Mrs. Russell Kent, treasurer.

A dessert luncheon was served at 1:30 followed by the business meeting. After the business session cards were played.

Winners in the bridge marathon were Mrs. E. H. Huesener and Mrs. Howard Sundblad, first; Mrs. G. E. Dehlin and Mrs. A. C. Peterson, second; Mrs. Archie Cowen and Mrs. A. W. Moore, third.

In the social hour held after the business session, Mrs. W. A. Moore was high in bridge and Mrs. E. H. McDonald, second. Mrs. Wynand Nieuwenkamp was high in canasta and the special award went to Mrs. Archie Harris.

He suggested that perhaps Detroit, Traverse City, and Muskegon in the Lower Peninsula would be key port centers because of advantages of location, facilities and ease of development.

Beukema for 16 years served as secretary of the Great Lakes Tidewater Commission and 22 years as treasurer of the Great Lakes Harbor Assn. He was active in the long fight for American participation with Canada in the seaway project.

The commission has recommended Beukema for appointment by President Eisenhower to the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. to coordinate this country's activities with those of Canada in mapping the development.

The Development Corp. will have a major role in recommending to Congress the channels to be deepened and the ports to be improved in a program that Army engineers estimate may cost 100 million dollars.

Pillow Saves Baby

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Four-month-old Michael Hatofilax was sleeping on a pillow on the front seat of a car driven by his mother, Mrs. Ann Hatofilax, 29, when the car was struck broadside by a two-ton truck Wednesday.

The right front door was flung open and Michael flew 20 feet through the air, accompanied by the pillow.

It was still under him when he landed. He suffered only minor bruises and scratches.

July Draft Call Biggest Of Year

LANSING — The largest draft call of the year was announced for July by Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director.

Michigan draft boards will be asked to furnish 1,287 men for induction into the armed forces during the month. The call is an increase of 550 men over the June call of 737 and 159 more than the January call of 1,128, the year's previous high.

Col. Holmes said he expected boards to be able to fill their quotas with draftees 20 years old or older because of a continued high rate of volunteering by young men.

Wayne County will furnish 495 of the July call and outstate counties 792.

The call by individual draft boards:

- Alger 2, Baraga 2, Chippewa 7, Delta 7, Dickinson 5, Gogebic 3, Houghton 8, Iron 2, Keweenaw 2, Luce 2, Mackinac 4, Marquette 4, Menominee 6, Ontonagon 3, Schoolcraft 2.

Magic Stone Boats Of 5000 Years Ago Located In Egypt

CAIRO — An Egyptian archeologist claimed the discovery of "magic" stone boats designed 5,000 years ago to carry the soul of Cheops—one of the greatest of the ancient pharaohs—across the sky in an eternal parade of the sun.

If excavation alongside the famous great pyramid at Giza bears out the archeologist's hopes, it may be the most important discovery since the excavation of King Tut's tomb, according to Egyptian authorities.

A glimpse of the interior of one of the stone boats from down a narrow shaft is all the experts have to go on so far.

IN MEMORIAM

To the beautiful memory of our dear beloved wife, mother and grandmother, Mary Chernick, who passed away 4 years ago today, May 28, 1950. We seem to see in the soft dim light of the night the face we loved the best. And think of her when the sun's last rays cross down in the far off West. We miss you no less as the time passes on. Than we did on the day of your going. For absence can never close the door of our hearts. And the lamp of our love is still glowing. Your heart was the truest in all the wide world. You love the best to recall. For no one on earth could take your place. You are still the dearest of all. Lovingly remembered by her husband, Children and Grandchildren. A6416-148-11

Mrs. Melvin Mischeau, Mrs. Joseph Mischeau and Family, and his sisters. A6418-148-11

Has Role In Both Opera—Burlesque

DETROIT (AP)—The New York Metropolitan Opera House and a burlesque theatre may be at opposite ends of the entertainment world, but Jack Mann manages to jump from one to the other with the speed of a new joke. At the "Met" he is a "comedian"; at the burlesque house, a "comic." Mann has played the role of the jailer, Frosh, in "Die Fledermaus" more than 25 times. He says there are more similarities between opera and burlesque than there are differences, although "things enjoyed by burlesque fans would shock the dignified audiences at the Met." "There isn't too much difference in the routines." But, he says, "you can take your time building up a scene in opera, but your burlesque people want you to get to the point of a joke right now."

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

St. Joe Trojans Edge Gladstone Braves 3-2

The St. Joe Trojans edged the Gladstone Braves 3-2 here yesterday afternoon in the final home game of the 1954 season. The win was the 10th against two losses for Coach Tom St. Germain's nine which closes the campaign at Negaunee Saturday.

Sophomore Gary Paler scattered five hits, fanned six, walked one and hit two batsmen while going the distance for the St. Joe victory. The Trojans picked up only two safeties off Norm Butler who hurled all the way for the Braves, but took advantage of wildness and walks to press an early advantage.

The Trojans broke the scoring ice in the second inning when Joe Juetten singled, moved to second on a fielder's choice by Bob Dubord and advanced to third when consecutive walks were issued to Bill Lancour and Paler. The St. Joe first baseman scored on a passed ball to give the Trojans a 1-0 lead.

St. Joe added two runs in the third inning for a 3-0 margin. Bill Maycunich walked and coasted home when Jim Greenwood blasted a double to the center field fence. Cliff O'Donnell bunted Greenwood down to third and was safe on an error at first base. Greenwood was thrown out at the plate by the first baseman who had dropped the ball. Butler then issued walks to Dan Rousseau, Dubord and Paler to force in O'Donnell with the second run of the inning.

Butler, who had walked eight in the first three innings, settled down on the mound and the Braves came alive with a run in the sixth when Jack Beach walked and scored on a double off the bat of Larry Feldt.

Gladstone threatened in the top of the seventh and narrowed the gap to one run. Farrell was on with an error and sacrificed to

Wildcat Netter Rated Favorite

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Al Kuhn of Northwestern has assumed the favorite's role in advancing to the semifinals of the No. 1 singles division of the Big Ten tennis meet.

Kuhn advanced Thursday by defeating highly-regarded Duane Gomer of Indiana 6-4, 6-1. Earlier, Gomer had pulled an upset by handing Wisconsin's top-ranked Jack Vincent his first loss of the season, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4.

Kuhn's semi-final opponent will be Norm Barnes of Iowa who took a first round victory over Purdue's Dick Cole 6-0, 6-3.

Conrad Woods of Illinois faces Al Mann of Michigan in the other semifinal.

Indiana, seeking its third straight team crown, was being hard pressed by surprising Michigan. After the first day of play, the Hoosiers held a slim lead of 22-20 over the Wolverines. Michigan State was third with 19, followed by Northwestern 14, Wisconsin and Iowa each 13, Illinois 11, Minnesota 4, Purdue 3 and Ohio State 1.

Cardinal Skid Ends In Fifth Place As Cubs Win By 7 To 3

By BEN PILEGAR
AP Sports Writer

The way the St. Louis Cardinals have been playing at home this season you'd almost think they were trying to help the fans remember of the old Browns.

In 22 games at home this season the Cardinals have won only 10.

A week ago today they came home from their first long Eastern trip in first place. Thursday night they hustled out of town in second division. Between times they had dropped five out of seven to Cincinnati and Chicago, both lower bracket clubs, and skidded from first to fifth.

Better On Road

The fact the Cardinals' over-all record still is above .500 is due entirely to their road play where they've won 11 and lost 7.

The Cards lost Thursday 7-3 to Chicago. Philadelphia trounced Brooklyn 11-5. Washington tripped the New York Yankees 7-3 and Detroit handed Baltimore its seventh straight loss, 7-1. The eight other clubs weren't scheduled.

Eskymos Extend Win Streak To 35; Beat Marquette 10-1

Heavy Hitters In Final Game

Marquette — The Escanaba Eskymos capped their fourth straight undefeated baseball season by winning game No. 35 against the Marquette Redmen, 10-1, here yesterday afternoon.

A combination of tight pitching by Harlan Breitman and heavy slugging by the Eskymos extended Coach Jim Rouman's fabulous string of victories that began back in the 1950 campaign.

Breitman went the route for his sixth victory this year, rationing out four hits, fanning four and walking three.

8 Extra-Base Hits

The Eskymos clubbed Marquette hurler Anderson for 12 hits, including eight extra-base blows. Long distance sluggers for Escanaba were Pat Coyne and Tipdy Larmay with homers, Breitman, Bob Bero and Roger Miron with triples and Jim Beck, Miron and Hugh Ray with doubles.

Marquette got its first taste of Escanaba's plate power in the initial inning when Beck slammed a double and rode home on a single by Larmay.

The Eskymos added five runs to their singleton in the first with two homers, a triple and two walks in the second. Ray walked, Bero tripled, Coyne homered, Beck walked and Larmay homered to chill the host Redmen.

Eskymo bats were silent until the fifth when Rouman's men shoved four runs across. Miron tripled, Larmay was issued a walk, Breitman singled, George McFadden was safe on the only error of the game, and Hugh Ray slapped a long double.

Breitman Top Hurler

Breitman joined the hitting parade with a triple, scoring Miron who had doubled, for Escanaba's final run in the sixth inning.

Marquette scored its lone run in the fourth when shortstop Johnson singled and came in on a double by the pitcher. In going the route for Marquette, Anderson fanned six and walked four.

Breitman, who took over the Escanaba pitching chores after the graduation of smooth southpaw Fred Boddy last year, tossed his six victories against Stephenson twice, Ishpeming twice, St. Joe and Marquette. Sophomore Ricky Erickson notched the other Escanaba win over Marquette.

The junior righthander worked a total of 36 innings in which he allowed 17 hits and gave up 13 walks for 11 runs. He sent 42 batsmen down swinging.

Streak Began In 1950

The amazing Escanaba victory streak began in 1950 after the Eskymos had lost the third game of the season to Iron Mountain, 8-2. They finished out the season with a 7-1 record and won their final five games.

In 1951 they swept through eight straight, in 1952 they stretched the string to 20, added eight last season and seven this year. This year's victims came in the following order: Stephenson 7-0, Ishpeming 13-3, Stephenson 11-2, St. Joe 5-4, Marquette 3-2, Ishpeming 13-1, Marquette 10-1.

Teams Selected For Babe Ruth Openers At Memorial Field

A hardball doubleheader and a softball game are on tap for local sports fans at Memorial Field Tuesday night as the Escanaba Babe Ruth League opens the 1954 season. Kiwanis meets the L & R Sport Shop in the first game at 5:30 with AFL facing the Elks in the middle contest at 7. The softball tilt at 8:30 brings together Northland Bread and Harnischfeger in a regular American League game.

Brief opening night ceremonies will take place at 7 p. m., and will feature short talks by Mayor Harlan Yelland, Recreation Board Chairman James Rouman, and Babe Ruth League president Kent Olson.

The Babe Ruth League is a continuation of the program inaugurated in 1952 to provide recreation for the 13 and 14 year old boys. That year the loop operated as the Pony League. Last season it was expanded to include the 15 year olds and was known as the Little Bigger League. This year the age limits remain the same but the program was renamed to honor the great home run hitter of the New York Yankees, George Herman Ruth.

After a regular schedule of league games is played, an all-star team is chosen from the outstanding players of all the teams to compete in district and regional tournaments. Last year the local Little Bigger League entry copped the state championship and won one contest in the regional tourney before being eliminated. This season prospects for a better all-star team are good and with an added year of experience the local Babe Ruth Leaguers hope to go all the way in the regionals and qualify for the national tourney.

Prep Hurler Closes With 3rd No-Hitter

NILES, Mich. (AP)—Bill Neesley, 17, closed his high school baseball career Thursday by pitching his third no-hitter this season.

Neesley struck out 16 batters in pitching Niles high to an 11-0 victory over Sturgis.

It was Neesley's 10th no-hitter since he started pitching four years ago. He had five in junior league competition and five in high school.

Cardinals To Return Scheib To Athletics

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals announced Thursday that they are returning pitcher Carl Scheib to the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Cardinals made a conditional purchase of the 27-year-old righthander three weeks ago. He yielded six runs, including three home runs in the 4-2-3 innings he worked for the Cards.

The 21-man Eskymo squad will lose five seniors this year, including three starters. Senior regulars are McFadden, Larmay and Miron. Others are Jim Bolm and Bob South.

American Finals In French Meet

PARIS (AP)—An all-American men's singles final between Tony Trabert and Art Larsen is assured in the French International tennis tournament.

The doubles, too, could turn into an all-Yank affair. The top tandem match today brought together Trabert and Vic Seixas against the Australian combination of Mervyn Rose and Rex Hartwig. The other semi-final pitted Gardner Mulloy and Budge Patty against Lew Hoard and Ken Rosewall of Australia.

Trabert defeated Patty Thursday 6-1, 7-5, 6-4, and Larsen conquered Enrique Morea of Argentina 6-4, 6-3, 6-4, to move into the singles finals.

Maureen Connolly and Mrs. Gineette Bueaille are in the finals of the women's singles. Miss Connolly stopped Sylvania Lazzarino of Italy Thursday 6-0, 6-1 and Mrs. Bacaille eliminated Mrs. Nelly Adamson, 6-2, 6-4.

Tigers Top Orioles; Mound Staff Will Get Severe Test On Road

CLEVELAND (AP)— Detroit's pitching staff — still the team's major problem — gets its severest test of the season starting tonight — a 21-game road trip which will carry the Tigers to six American League cities.

The Tigers open the long, and perhaps revealing, junket with a night game against the league-leading Cleveland Indians. Detroit ace Steve Gromek 7-2 will oppose Early Wynn 5-2.

The Tigers enter the testing trip with a 10-man pitching staff, and manager Fred Hutchinson is plainly worried about it.

Staff Looks Thin

"Our staff looks a little thin now," said Hutch. "This road trip is the big one. I hope the boys can hold up."

Actually, only two pitchers — Gromek and Ned Garver — have been consistent. The others have been erratic and, therefore, unreliable.

Hutchinson favors rotating five starters. Bill Hoelt has been good — and bad. Ted Gray hasn't pitched a good game yet. Hutch hopes George Zuverkr, who went the distance for the first time in his major league life Tuesday, will step in and take over a starter's slot. That's asking a lot.

Hutchinson's plight was brightened Thursday when Garver won his first game since May 8, hurling smooth seven-hit ball for an easy 7-1 victory over the hapless Baltimore Orioles.

It was Garver's fourth victory compared to one loss, and his teammates gave him a four-run cushion in the first inning.

The Tigers will play three games in Cleveland, then move on to Baltimore for a three-game series, including a Memorial Day doubleheader Monday.

136 Miles Per Hour Pace Expected In 500

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)— Drivers in the 500-mile auto race field Monday expect the early pace to be about 136 miles an hour, three miles faster than Bill Vukovich's record run in the first hundred miles of his winning effort last year.

They haven't said so, but they finished fuel and carburetion tests Thursday with short runs at 136 to 138. In the late tests, the drivers run at what they guess the race speed will be, to give them a check on their engines at a competitive pace.

All of the 33 qualified cars got through the preliminaries without accidents.

Ashley Trimble Cole, chairman of the New York State Racing Commission, has an unusual hobby. He collects and frames autographed letters and documents of famous legal personages.

Notre Dame not only produces outstanding football and basketball teams but also topnotch track squads. This year the tracksters won the indoor Central Collegiate Conference championship.

Ike Sees Nats Defeat Yanks

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)—As far as Clark Griffith is concerned, President Eisenhower should show up daily to cheer on the Washington Senators.

Eisenhower saw the season opener which the Senators won from the New York Yankees 5-3. On his second 1954 appearance Thursday, the Senators thrashed the Yankees 7-3.

When it was over, the chief executive turned to the 84-year-old Griffith and said with a chuckle: "Well, I won two games for you. That's the least I can do."

Senator owner Griffith had written the President during a long losing streak that it appeared he'd better get out to the ball park to straighten things out.

The President was about as enthusiastic as any of the 21,763 paying customers for the contest which benefited the Red Cross by better than $17,000. Among the spectators was Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, now visiting this country.

Eisenhower presented Mickey Vernon, Washington first baseman, with a silver bat symbolizing the 1953 American League batting championship which Vernon won with a mark of .337.

Practice Sessions For Little League

Practice sessions for three Escanaba Jaycee Little League teams are scheduled for Saturday.

The Rotary will take the field at 10 a. m., Kiwanis at 2:30 p. m. and the Lions at 4.

The 1954 Little League season will open with games scheduled for Monday.

Jackson Gets Chance At Norkus Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)— Hurricane Tommy Jackson, deflated by "spoiler" Jimmy Slade in his last start, gets one more chance to night against slugger Charley Norkus.

Jackson's first Madison Square Garden main event will start at 8 p. m. (CST) with radio (ABC) and television (NBC) coverage.

The Hurricane rode high with victories over Rex Layne, Clarence Henry and Dan Bucceroni until Slade made him look like a novice.

Run Into Trouble With Big Ten Grid Schedule

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (P) — The mapping of Big Ten football schedules for 1957 and 1958 by conference coaches and athletic directors has been stymied by Iowa's refusal to drop Notre Dame as a season-closing opponent.

Other Big Ten members reportedly want the Hawkeyes to drop the Irish for a "natural" season-ending game with Michigan State College.

"I would urge Iowa to continue with its closing game with Notre Dame if the matter is brought to my attention," Paul Blommers, Iowa faculty representative, said Thursday. He indicated Iowa would stand firm.

Five Conference Foes

Iowa, whose 14-14 tie with Notre Dame last year greatly enhanced box office value of the series for years to come, tentatively is booked for only five conference games in each 1957 and 1958.

The required minimum is six league games per season unless special permission is given. This permission is unlikely in Iowa's case because Ohio State and Illinois are said to have open dates which Iowa could fill in those years.

Davey Hangs Up Boxing Gloves

CHICAGO (P) — Chuck Davey told a news conference Thursday that he is hanging up his boxing gloves for good.

The announcement came as no surprise. Davey's manager, Hec Knowles, had said Wednesday night he was going to recommend it after Chuck's showing against Vince Martinez in Chicago Stadium.

Martinez, a rising welterweight from Paterson, N. J., floored the ex-Michigan State boxing champion four times and won by a seventh round TKO.

The balding Davey, 28, who has a masters' degree in education, said "Boxing has been very rewarding to me. It enabled me to receive an education. It gave me a rich and varied experience. In no other business, at my age, could I have done so well."

Davey, whose pro record stands as five defeats and two draws in 48 starts and whose earnings have been estimated at $90,000 still is not through with television, the medium that built him up to a one-time national boxing hero.

"I'm going to try to break into the radio and television sportscasting field," he said. "I've had a sports show in my home town — Lansing, Mich. — for two years, and now I'd like to branch out."

Sports Roundup

The youth movement instigated by Lou Boudreau could extend to a youthful new manager if the Red continue to flub the double play . . . Can this be the new Ted Williams with a heart (and shoulder) of gold? He was overheard excusing himself before leaving an interview. . . .

Casey Stengel's still moaning about balls hit through the left side of his infield—right past Scooter Rizzuto. . . .

Ironie that Micky Mantle should now be a more menacing batter from a right-hand stance. . . . Wasn't it only two years ago that Stengel was urging him to bat left all the time? . . . Mickey's appearances at the plate at the Stadium recall Joe DiMaggio's early career—there is a chorus of boos every time he steps up. . . .

Sign of the times: a sign rental at Ebbets Field that once cost $275 is now up to $2600 per annum. . . .

The late Chief Bender was noted for his competitive pitching temperament—as illustrated when he growled at Al Rosen during a banquet of baseball greats last winter: "I threw at Cobb here, I threw at Speaker. . . and if I were around today, I'd be throwing at you."

Could pitcher Dave Hoskins have been shipped down for failing to cover first base on a key play against the Yankees the day before his demotion? . . .

When he makes out his next batting order, someone ought to tell Eddie Stanky that Red Schoendienst doesn't spell his name "Shoendiendist". . . . Bob Shephard, the dulcet-voiced public address announcer at Yankee Stadium, teaches speech at a New York high school. . . . There are six catchers on the Pittsburgh roster—the five regularly listed now that Jim Mangano's out of service and that erstwhile receiver, Branch Rickey, who's catching it these days, too. . . .

Portside Bill Henry has blossomed as a major league hurler with the Sox by acquiring a slider and change-up to go with his fast ball. . . .

Walter Gibbons, switching from New York's Roosevelt Raceway to general manage the Foxboro, Mass., harness plant, piloted a sulky when he was a fledgling of 81 . . . was winning races at 14 . . . and now, after eight grandchildren, can still put his feet up on a trailer. . . . Gibbons gave the improbably named young Stanley Dancer his chance to drive on the big tracks six years ago—because Dancer talks as persuasively as he handles the reins. . . .

A leading rivalry in the Indianapolis motorama, Billy Vukovich and Freddie Agabashian, is a carry-over from the California midgets from which both were graduated. . . . Daytona Beach still is pushing plans for a $2½ million track to rival Indianapolis. . . . which could be one reason visiting impresario Bill France was ejected from the latter's pits. . . .

San Antonio of the Texas League has a young pitcher named Rindold Duren, who's supposed to be faster than Bullet Bob Turley of the parent Orioles. . . . and has opposing batters leery of digging in at the plate because five years ago he was told by an eye specialist he'd better forget pitching—"your sight is so poor you couldn't possibly see a hard line drive."

Between you'n me, how can baseball, which needs class, let men like Tommy Henrich and Mickey Cochrane drift away from the game? . . .

Hank Sauer Ahead Of Ruth's Pace

CHICAGO (P) —It's a little too early to get excited about it, but big Hank Sauer of the Chicago Cubs is well ahead of the pace Babe Ruth set when he hit his record 60 homers. The Bambino didn't slam his 14th until his 41st game. Sauer has hit 14 in 37. Stan Musial has hit 14 home runs in 40 games for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Small, Talented Illini Track Team Eyes Title

By JERRY LISKA

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (P) — Illinois' small but talented squad today opened a quest for the school's fourth straight title in the Big Ten's 54th annual outdoor track and field meet.

Preliminary competition is seven individual events and the discus finals were scheduled to launch the two-day meet beginning at 4 p.m.

The 13-event finals will be held Saturday beginning at 1 p.m.

Michigan's numerically stronger squad appeared the chief threat to the Illini, although Indiana was accorded a chance to surge into the scrap for the team title.

Michigan and Indiana have 27 entries against only 13 for the Illini.

At least three records seem in peril, the one mile mark of 4:09; the two-mile record of 9:10.4, and the mile relay standard of 3:12.4.

Indiana has had two 4:09.5 milers this season, Lowell Zellers and Jim Lambert, while Michigan's John Ross holds the indoor mark of 4:09.4.

Purdue's Gene Matthews already has stepped the two-mile in 9:05.3 this year and should be pushed by defending champion Rich Ferguson of Iowa.

Fast Relay Time

Illinois' mile relay team has been clocked in 3:11.3.

Illinois has won the last three outdoor and last four indoor crowns and rest their bid for Coach Leo Johnson's eighth straight triumph in both championship versions on five individuals as well as the mile relay quartet.

Favored for Illini firsts are Willie Williams, defending champion in both the 100 and 200 dashes; Ralph Fessenden in the 440; Gene Maynard in the 880; Willard Thomson in both hurdles; and Ron Mitchell in the high jump.

Wolverine Champ

Thomson is defending high hurdles champ.

The Illini also have strong point-getters in Jim Wright, who shared pole vault laurels last year with Bob Ehrhart of Northwestern, and Dick Wham who was 1953 high jump co-champion with Michigan's Milt Mead, Ehrhart and Mead also return.

The one other returning champion is Sweden's husky gift to Michigan, weightman Fritz Nilsson, the shot put and discus winner last year.

Legalized Bingo Petitions Pushed

LANSING (P) — Bingo backers say they have almost reached the halfway mark in a drive to collect enough signatures to put the proposal to legalize charity bingo on the November ballot.

Representatives of county chapters of the Michigan Association of Non-Profit Charitable Organizations said a total of 130,000 signatures have been collected on pro-bingo petitions to date.

An approximate 287,000 signatures will have to be filed with the secretary of state's office by July 1 to put the bingo proposal up for a popular vote.

E. J. McLaughlin of Merrill, president of the association, said the group plans to attempt to secure the full cooperation of veterans organizations and their auxiliaries.

Merrill said Veterans of Foreign Wars posts will turn in petitions at their state VFW meeting at Grand Rapids June 17.

Merrill said the group will attempt to solicit signatures at supermarkets, race tracks, drive-in theaters and other places where crowds gather.

The association approved the printing of an additional 25,000 petitions. County members reported they have been distributing honorary membership cards in the association to help finance the drive to legalize bingo.

Mrs. Toletta Fair of Lansing was appointed acting secretary of the group and Thomas Ritter of Bad Axe was elected second vice president at a meeting here Wednesday.

County representatives agreed to meet again at Lansing June 9 to formulate final plans for the drive.

Circulating Here

Robert Coan, 615 Ogden Ave., is in charge of the circulation of petitions in Escanaba and Delta County for the legalization of charity bingo. Coan said that the petitions are distributed widely through the county. Petitions may be obtained by phoning 598-M.

Code Of Ethics Expected To Ban TV Beer Guzzling

LANSING (P) — A legislative committee was confident that television stations will adopt their own code of ethics and remove necessity for a state law regulating TV beer advertisements.

The committee was chosen to investigate the need for such a law after the 1954 Legislature rejected the McCune bill to censor television advertising of beer.

Sen. George N. Higgins (R-Fernside), chairman of the committee, said he had been virtually assured by television operators that a new code covering the touchy subject would be adopted.

"My guess is," Higgins said, "that by next fall you won't see the cap taken off a bottle of beer on any television advertisement."

Drys and church groups backing the McCune bill had objected to advertisements showing beer being drunk or being poured into glasses in an attractive way. They contend this encouraged young people to consider beer "socially acceptable."

Higgins said some breweries already have restricted the type of their TV ads and that others would do so when their existing contracts expire in the fall.

TO SAMPSON AFB — Second Lieutenant John Patrick Degnan will leave Saturday to report for duty at Sampson Air Force Base, Greenville, N. Y. Lt. Degnan was graduated from the University of Michigan School of Business Administration in June of 1953. Since graduation he has been employed as industrial engineer for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. in Crystal City, Mo. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Degnan, 1421 1st Ave. S.

No Gypsy Moth Spreading Found

LANSING (P) — State Agriculture Department workers have failed to find any further infestations of gypsy moths in their check of a widening radius south of Lansing where the pests were first discovered.

O. A. Boyer, chief of the department's Bureau of Plant Industry, said the checking will continue until it is reasonably certain the pests have not started any distant colonies.

The discovery of the pests, the first far and further west than Pennsylvania, was announced Tuesday, seven days after they were discovered. The pests, capable of destroying any vegetation, have been working havoc in the F for more than 30 years.

Gov. Williams has called the state "Little Legislature" to meet next Wednesday to provide an emergency appropriation to spray a three-mile radius of the infested area with DDT.

State and federal experts hope that this will stamp out the infestation before it becomes serious. "The infested area is a two-mile strip along the southern city limits of Lansing."

Junior Prom

GRAND MARAIS — "Anchor's Aweigh" was the most popular song at the Grand Marais High School preceding the Junior Prom.

The decorating committee under the supervision of class advisor Mrs. Vito Mixon and student chairman, Rose Ann Bugg brought a touch of the navy to the high school auditorium.

All the international color flags formed a canopy over the dance floor and to the front a huge ship named the "USS Eleventh" served as the stage for Gorch's Orchestra from Manistique. The orchestra members also dressed in accord with the prom theme. A ship's railing framed the dance floor along with individual tables, lighted with small lamps. Serving the guests and acting as little navy aides were Suzanne and Rosemary Hebert. Refreshments were served at the rear of the gym from a large table with a large ship centerpiece.

For the grand march representatives from the classes were as follows: seniors, Robert Erickson and Rhea Ostrander; juniors Peter Tellier and Sally Masse; sophomores, Henry Pettipren and Joyce Masse; freshmen, Richard Tester.

Studebaker Executive Paul Hoffman Named 'Father Of The Year'

NEW YORK (P) — Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the Studebaker Corp., and former administrator of the Economic Cooperation Administration, Thursday was named "Father of the Year."

Announcement of his selection was made by the National Father's Day Committee, a non-profit organization.

The committee said Hoffman, the father of seven children, was chosen for the honor because of his "rare statesmanship" and also:

"For the active part he has taken and is still taking in advancing bi-partisan cooperation in government and democracy and peace here and abroad."

Committee Director Alvin Austin said President Eisenhower would present Hoffman the George Washington Medal, formally designating the automobile executive as Father of the Year, at the White House on June 17.

In accepting the award at the committee's annual luncheon Hoffman said he believed the responsibility of rearing children to become good Americans was "more vital in these days than ever in the nation's history."

"It is perhaps more difficult of fulfillment because of the confusion that now exists as to what good Americanism really is," he said.

He said the goal of real Americanism was "not only for equality, but certainty of opportunity for full growth of every citizen."

Other awards presented at the luncheon to fathers chosen in other categories were:

Literary Father of the Year—former Ambassador Chester Bowles who recently wrote "Ambassador's Report";

Television Father—TV star Herb Shriner;

Sports Father—Golfers Sam Snead; Husband and Wife of the Year—Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy; Screen Father—Cowboy star Roy Rogers, and Radio Father—Commentator Lowell Thomas.
